3-5 Page Essay

Around the middle of the course, I will examine student progress by assigning one 3-5 page essay. The essay requires that students choose a philosophical issue discussed thus far, transform the issue into a specific question, and resolve the question in two ways. The topic and question must be approved by me prior to planning the remainder of the essay. The essay will argue for or against a certain view on the topic by adopting an opposing view.

Optional: students may meet with me after creating an outline for their essay and I will provide guidance on how best to proceed.
